

From wife, mother and artist to mentor, entrepreneur and thriving business owner.

Tanya Freedman proves that with passion and a little savvy, anyone can succeed in the small-business world.

Start & Run an Art Teaching Business
Tanya Freedman ▪ 978-1-55180-734-8
$18.95 US / $22.95 Cdn ▪ January 2008

For interviews and more information, please contact

Selina Rajani ▪ Publicity Manager
Self-Counsel Press
srajani@self-counsel.com ▪ 604-986-3366 x220

Please send tearsheets of any published reviews to
Publicity Dept, Self-Counsel Press
1481 Charlotte Road ▪ North Vancouver, BC
Canada ▪ V7J 1H1

For Immediate Release

Tanya Freedman has always been artistic. Tall tales told to childhood friends grew into short stories and novels; painting and drawing remains a passion. Not the usual skillset for a budding entrepreneur, right?

Wrong.

I'm one of the many people who are proof of the fact that if you don't talk yourself out of your good idea, you too could be sitting on a goldmine you've been driving towards all your life. What's your day job? And what's your dream?

In Start & Run an Art Teaching Business, Tanya Freedman shares the tactics that allowed her to transform her lifelong passion into a lucrative business. Have you got a talent that just might be the seed of a new career? Tanya's success shows that yes, it is possible. Has the time come to discover your inner heart's passion? Or are you still waiting for tomorrow?

Tanya Freedman (Richmond Hill, Ontario) has always believed in her own talents. Born in Uzbekistan, her tenacity and passion have helped her through many of life's challenges, including the breast cancer that had also affected her mother. She ran an antique importing business before opening the Jolly Good Art School and is now in high demand as a mentor and speaker, offering workshops in entrepreneurship, small business organization and writing.

Self-Counsel Press

www.self-counsel.com